Campus Sorority Chapters Take Freshmen, Transfers

Women's Social Fraternities Pledge One Hundred Sixty-Eight Members

Following a busy week of rushing the nine national sororities bid 168 freshmen and transfers on Wednesday, October 10. Chi Omega received 30 pledges; Gamma Phi Beta 25; Pi Beta Phi 20; Delta Delta Delta 19; Kappa Alpha Theta 18; Kappa Delta 18; Alpha Chi Omega 18; Kappa Kappa Gamma 13; Phi Mu 9.

The rushing began on Thursday, September 28, when sorority women visited the dormitories. Parties started on Monday for all girls interested in becoming sorority members. This continued on Tuesday.

Wednesday invitations were issued by the individual groups for 20-minute visits to the chapter houses. This continued until Friday with houses open from 4:00 p. m. until 6:00 p. m. in the afternoon and 7:00 p. m. until 9:00 p. m. in the evening. At these times the sororities had parties, sang songs, and displayed their houses to entertain the rushees.

A Sunday reception was held from 3:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m., and on Monday evening the preferential parties were given with the guests remaining at the sorority houses for an hour. Tuesday was Silence Day with no association between upperclassmen and freshmen. After receiving the bids, new pledges-to-be went to their respective houses at 1:00 p. m. on Wednesday.

W-M Debaters Hold Tryouts

Tryouts for the inter-collegiate debate council will be held on Wednesday, October 17, at 8:45 p. m. in the Apollo Room in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

All students, men and women, are eligible to try out and those who do so are asked to prepare a five minute speech discussing the role of free trade on the National Collegiate topic: Resolved: that a free trade policy should be carried out among the nations of the world. The council is planning an extended Northern and Southern trip as well as many home debates.

Tickets For "Pygmalion" On Sale In Cafeteria

Tickets for the William and Mary Theatre's first production, Pygmalion, will be on sale today through Saturday, October 20, in the dining hall. Season tickets will also be on sale in the dining hall and at the information desk in Marshall-Wythe Hall.

Tickets will be sold at the box office in Phi Beta Kappa Hall Monday, October 22, through Thursday, October 26.

In a special effort to canvass the area double postal cards are being mailed to all local people interested in the Theatre, in a special drive to measure the scope of the Theatre.

Dorothy Grove, box office manager, requests that people who have previously purchased tickets or requested them by mail should claim them at the box office. One hundred and fifty tickets remain unclaimed.

At The Last Minute

Dr. D. W. Woodbridge, faculty military advisor, has announced to all registrants and those about to register under the Selective Service Law that postponement of induction until the end of a semester, now allowed by Selective Service regulations, is not automatic. Any student wishing such postponement must request it in writing. Such a request should be made as far in advance as possible.

There will be an important freshman class meeting on Friday, October 19, at 7:00 p. m. in Washington 200.

The Inter-Fraternity Council will meet Monday, October 22, at 8:00 p. m. in the Apollo Room of Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

Co-op Decides Wams' Future

Dr. Harold R. Phalen presided at the meeting of the General Co-operative Committee on Thursday, October 11 at 3:00 p. m. in the Dodge Room. Dr. Grace Warren Landrum was elected chairman of the committee for this year.

Dr. John E. Pomfret gave a brief talk about the line of authority as it comes down from the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Virginia to the Student Body.

The topics of men's dormitory inspection and the cafeteria were discussed. The motion was made and passed to recommend that the Chaplain's dining hall be turned over to the juniors and seniors after the Chaplains leave.

What should be done with the War Council was also a topic of discussion. The committee came to the conclusion that the War Council should continue and carry on the bond drive before disbanding. To be formally disbanded the War Council will have to meet before the Student Assembly.

Class Officers To Campaign For Elections

This year the pre-war feature of election campaigns will return to the campus. At a meeting of the Student Assembly on Tuesday, October 9, the decision was made to bring back the practices of campaign speeches and posters around campus with the freshman class election this month.

Candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency of the freshman class will be given an opportunity to present their platforms during the campaigning in Phi Beta Kappa Hall on Monday, October 29 from 7:45 to 10:00 p. m. These candidates will be required to make a four minute speech at this time.

Student body elections will be held on Wednesday, October 31, in Phi Beta Kappa lobby from 1:00 to 6:00 p. m. according to the Elections Committee. Nancy Grube, president of the senior class, is chairman of the Committee. Besides the freshman class officers and freshman representatives to the Assembly, a senior man representative and a junior man and woman representative to the Assembly and the vice-president of the junior class will be chosen at this time.

"Pygmalion" Players Enjoy Funny Backstage Incidents

Ginna Lewis And Clint Atkinson Practice Cockney Lines To Amusement Of Others

Some say that at times the backstage happenings of a play can be even funnier than the play itself. The cast of Pygmalion is having a hard time keeping quiet during some of the scenes when Ginna Lewis goes into her cockney lines. Miss Hunt is frenziedly rehearsing the same scenes again and again on the theory that if the players go over them often enough the scenes won't seem amusing to them the night of the play. Ginna, incidentally, has been practicing Cockney by poring over books, studying phonetics, and trying it out on fascinated friends.

Clint Atkinson, who plays a young Englishman in the play, and Ginna have been writing each other letters based on the characters in the play. Although it is never mentioned in the play, Eliza Doolittle marries the young Englishman, Freddie Eynsford-Hill. Ginna and Clint decided it would be a good joke to correspond with each other in their play names. Clint signs his letters "your obedient servant, Eynsford-Hill Esquire," and Ginna sends him letters "in care of Clint Atkinson."

Ginna says that one of her chief difficulties at the moment is the steel back brace that she is wearing temporarily under doctor's orders. It is making it very hard to be flexible in her movements, especially in one scene where she's supposed to faint.

Mr. Boyt is designing all of the costumes in a modern tempo and one of the gowns is of gold satin. To set off the gown, Ginna has borrowed her mother's set of jewels with pastel colored gems that shine brilliantly on the stage.

Meanwhile, the stage crew is working also, building and assembling the sets under the direction of Mr. Boyt and Miss Kendall. Behind the drawn curtains of Phi Beta are two huge pillars, and numerous other props on a half-finished stage. Some of the unusual features of the sets include a curved wall and a skylight suspended from the roof of the stage. The stage crew works in the Fine Arts building amid buzzsaws and props that are in the process of becoming finished stage products.

National War Fund Drive Continues To October 20

Harriet Irvin Organizes Campaign; Pomfret States Need For Support

Harriet Irvin, head of the War Council, is in charge of the final National War Fund drive, which is being conducted on campus October 10-20.

There is no quota set for the College, but students are urged by President John E. Pomfret to contribute generously. In the 1943 campaign, $636.00 was given by the student body, the A. S. T. U., and the Navy Chaplains; the 1944 total was $503.00, contributed by students and Navy Chaplains.

"In view of the fact that the personnel of the Navy Chaplains' School is much smaller than in previous years, it will be necessary for our student workers to double their efforts to obtain contributions," says Dr. Pomfret.

The War Council members who will employ the technique of door-to-door solicitation are Beverly Bose, Dorothy Fitzcharles, Glo Rankin, Barbara Nycum, Donna Lepper, Jeanne Mackay, Jean Morgan, and Frances Moore. Mary Louise McNabb and Helen Thomson will assist.

A federation of leading war-related appeals (with the exception of the Red Cross), the National War Fund provides comfort, hospitality, and entertainment for the armed forces and merchant marine, recreational materials for prisoners of war, and supplementary emergency relief to the people of our Allies and to refugees.

"Most of the money collected will, as before, go to the support of the U.S.O. here and abroad. It should be kept in mind that there are nearly seven million men overseas and that a large portion of them will still be there throughout the whole year. Certainly it is not too much to ask those in civilian life to contribute in some way to the well-being of our servicemen," says Dr. Pomfret.

Women To Elect Freshmen Officers

Election of freshmen representatives to the Executive Council and Judicial Committee of the Women Students' Cooperative Government Association will take place today from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. in the women's dorms.

Two women were nominated for each post by the Senior Nominating Committee. They are Barbara Siefert and Ruth Nenzel for the Executive Council; and Jean Canoles and Dorothy Thedieck for the Judicial Committee.

At the W. S. C. G. A. meeting Monday night, October 15, nominations was made from the floor of Jane Coleman and Nancy Adams as representatives to the Executive Council, and Charlotte Phillips and Diana Weddel for the Judicial Committee.

Flat Hat Receives First Class Rating

First Class Honor Rating has been awarded The FLAT HAT for the semester beginning February, 1945. The rating is given by the Associated Collegiate Press of the National Scholastic Press Association and is the fourth First Class honor that The FLAT HAT has received.

The FLAT HAT subscribes to the National Newspaper Critical Service of A. C. P. and receives weekly criticism of the paper regarding errors in make-up and story leads. Editors and staff members are working toward the goal of All-American rating, the Association's highest award.

Adair And Woodbridge Become New Advisors

Dr. Douglass Adair and Dr. D. W. Woodbridge have been chosen as FLAT HAT advisors for the coming year. The advisors were selected by FLAT HAT editors and approved by the Administration. Editors may confer with Dr. Adair and Dr. Woodbridge when there is any doubt concerning matter to be published in The FLAT HAT.

"Beaz" Sings and Writes; Plans to Travel Abroad

Jean Is Judicial Council Chairman; Member Of Mortar Board, Senate

Similar to many campus leaders, Jean Beazley, chairman of the Judicial Committee, divides her time among varied activities, both academic and extra-curricular. Active in high school on the year-book and newspaper staffs, Jean also had time to participate in modern dance club and chorus. She carried on these interests when she came to William and Mary.

Jean Beazley

English major, Jean has no definite career in mind other than becoming Mrs. Grayson Clary after graduation.

In her freshman year "Beaz" joined the Flat Hat and Colonial Echo staffs, the YWCA, and choir. She became publicity chairman of the YWCA and Music Club, and was a member of the Student Assembly and Dance Club during her sophomore year. Continuing her activities Jean served as representative-at-large to the Judicial Committee, Feature Editor of The FLAT HAT, and treasurer of YWCA last year.

Jean is ending her senior year as chairman of the Judicial Committee, member of Mortar Board, and president of Delta Delta Delta, social fraternity. She is also a member of the General Cooperative Committee, Senate, Assembly, and the Senior Nominating Committee.

Although she hasn't had as much time for reading as she would like, Jean still is interested in literature. Her varied interests include music, dancing, and the theater. Her hope is to travel through Europe some day when everything is back to normal. An

Library Science Club Plans Visit To Norfolk Libraries

Dorothy Scarborough, president of the Library Science Club, has announced that the next meeting of the Club will be held on November 20, at 7:00 p. m. in Barrett Living Room, for freshmen.

Membership in the Library Science Club includes those who are interested in librarianship as a profession. Members have an opportunity to become better acquainted with each other and to discuss their common problems.

The purposes of the club are to stimulate more interest in the profession, to recruit people for the profession in order that there may be candidates for open positions, and to keep in touch with graduates of the department. At the present time there are 189 William and Mary graduates working in 15 states and one Canadian province. There are more vacancies in all types of libraries than there are people to fill them.

The club was organized during the school year 1931-32, which was the year the department was started. From its beginning there has always been an open house in the Spring.

Each year the club tries to do something of professional interest for the members. Last year a trip was taken to New York to visit the larger publishing houses and libraries. Plans for this year have not been completed, but a trip to the libraries in Norfolk is scheduled.

Members of the club are as follows: Miss Mae Graham, acting head of the department; Miss Armina E. Crosby, instructor; Miss Elizabeth Hodges, librarian of Matthew Whaley; Mrs. B. L. Scott, secretary of the department; Dottie Scarborough, president; Peggy Smith and Millie Gaito, co-vice presidents; Aloise Bland, secretary; Anne Johnson, treasurer; Mary Stuart-Mason, Lucille Burbank, Kay Callahan, Elsie Cottam, Ellen Johnson, Lois Willis, Jerry Post, Eva Briesmaster, Ricky Orr, Jackie Armour, Gene Mears, Mary Frances Thomas, and Margorie Hartkoff.

Pomfret Speaks At Board Meeting

President John E. Pomfret went to Richmond last Friday for the annual fall meeting of the Board of Visitors at the Commonwealth Club. Charles J. Duke made his annual fiscal report on the finances of the College. President Pomfret and Mr. Duke stayed in Richmond to see the William and Mary-V. P. I. game.

Inquiring Reporter

Even though the Inquiring Reporter noticed that the Pepsodent people are giving jeeps for good answers to the same question, he asked, "Why should we continue to buy War Bonds?"

Mary Phipps—"We should keep on buying bonds in order to assist the transition from a wartime to a peacetime economy."

Mr. Cory, economic professor—"Continue to buy bonds to prevent inflation. Besides, I like War Bonds."

Bonnie Renninger—"We must continue to buy them to pay the country's debts that run into billions."

Judith Nevias—"It will bring the boys back home sooner."

Mr. J. S. Floyd, economics professor—"The buying should be continued for the same reasons as during the war. None of the reasons are invalid just because the war's over,—fight inflation."

Harriet Irvin—"People should support it because by supporting it you'll remind yourself that although the war is over a state of emergency still exists."

Mary DeVol—"We still have to pay for the war and besides I have a war stamp book that isn't all filled up."

Joan Le Fevre—"Why are all the serial numbers 'E', 'F', and 'G'?" Because only Franklin, Eleanor, and God know where the money was coming from to pay for all the Bonds. I really think people should buy them to aid in our reconversion plans."

Haigh To Play Faculty Concert

Andrew C. Haigh will play for the first faculty concert of the series on November 15. Other concerts will be held on February 5 and February 28. Tentative plans have been made to have a piano and violin sonata recital by Alan C. Stewart and Andrew C. Haigh, and a group of two pianos by Mr. Haigh and Cary McMullan.

Clayton-Grimes Club Plans Jamestown Park Field Trip

Betty Smeddle Speaks On Prison Camp Work

A field trip to the Jamestown Fossil Beds and Matoaka Park is planned by the Clayton-Grimes Biological Club for Saturday, October 20. The purpose of this trip is to collect biological specimens from the Beds and to exchange these specimens with the Biological Club of Radford State Teachers' College.

Another project of the club is the collection of specimens of goldenrod for Dr. A. B. Massey, professor of Botany at V. P. I., who has goldenrod specimens from all over the state of Virginia with the exception of the territory around Williamsburg. All students, whether in the Biological Club or not, may help in the collection of goldenrod with the Club.

Betty Smeddle, who has done scientific work in a Japanese prison camp hospital and laboratory, was the speaker at the last meeting, Tuesday, October 16, which advanced biology students attended. Programs for the year are to consist of round-table discussions, outside speakers, and reviews by individuals. Topics are to be of scientific interest.

Eta Sigma Phi Welcomes Ancient Language Students

"An open invitation to all Greek and Latin students, new and old, is forthwith extended for cakes and tea," Harrie Phillips, president of Eta Sigma Phi, has announced. The Open House will be held on Friday, October 19, from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. in Barrett Living Room.

The reception, to have decorations in autumn colors complementing Williamsburg's long Indian summer, purposes to bring the members of the Greek and Latin classes together so that they may know one another as a department. The reception is also designed to afford Eta Sigma Phi's members the opportunity to become better acquainted with the new classics students, all of whom are eligible for membership in the organization, the national honorary fraternity for excellence in the classical field.

Through the year it is the function of Eta Sigma Phi to sponsor various speakers brought in from the outside world. Such a speaker last year was Dr. David M. Robinson of John Hopkins University, a leading archeologist, who gave lectures here in March. Eta Sigma Phi sponsors student-professor round table discussions held two or three times a year.

This season the fraternity is planning a Saturnalia party, a recreation of an old Roman festival somewhat akin to the modern Halloween party. This celebration will be held soon after initiation of new members in December. The officers have stated their hope that the old films, Last Days of Pompeii, Ben Hur, and The Sign of the Cross will be shown at some future open Eta Sigma Phi meeting.

Brafferton Hall Houses Classes In Wood Carving Phonograph Music Improves Artistry; Woodcutters Work During Lectures

Blocks of wood, a big wooden mallet, and numerous chisel-like instruments are to be found in the basement of Brafferton Hall. These tools of the new woodcarving class under the direction of Mary Barnhardt, a graduate assistant of the Fine Arts department.

The work room holds a large, wooden table with pegs, in which the wood is held. Large pieces of logs are strewn around the room and it is these pieces of walnut or cedar that are eventually made into lamp bases or small statues. Lined on the table are odd-looking forms of carved, squat figures of clay models and tentative sketches. Working to the tune of the phonograph, the students follow drawings or models and meticulously chip away at the wooden blocks, always careful to follow the grain of the wood.

At present, the Fine Arts department is planning to install fluorescent lights and other tools needed to make the equipment more complete. The class is small because it is necessary that the students should have done some work on clay first.

The course, which gives three hours credit a semester, meets six hours a week as a lab. The woodcarving students add that Miss Barnhardt makes the class more interesting by lecturing as they work.

(Note: the reporter ended by joining the class herself.)

Chemistry Society Draws Up Petition

Chemistry Club members met last night, October 16, to go over their constitution and by-laws. Holding their meeting in Rogers 312 under the direction of Dorothy Hammer, president, they discussed the drawing up of a petition to be presented to the Student Assembly.

The petition concerns recognition of the Chemistry Club as a chapter of the American Chemical Society. This is a new organization formed last spring to replace Theta Chi Delta, which was disbanded because of lack of manpower.

The society is for chemistry majors, and meetings will be held every two weeks. Joy Allen is secretary and Mary Peek is on the Executive Council; the other officers did not return this year.

Writers Try Out For Chi Delta Phi

Tryouts are to be held for Chi Delta Phi, national honorary literary sorority, from October 20 to 31. Three types of writing which may be submitted are poems, short stories, and essays. Students who wish to join may write one piece of each or three of any one of these types. Material for tryouts is to be given to Janet Ginsburg, in 312 Barrett Hall.

The next meeting of the sorority will be held on Tuesday, November 6. Initiation of new members will take place on Friday, November 9. Janet Ginsburg is president of Chi Delta Phi, Lee Leidheiser is vice-president; June Haller is secretary, and Patricia Jones is treasurer.

Members of Chi Delta Phi may write material for The Litterateur, the national Chi Delta Phi magazine. This magazine carries information about literary contests and publishes acceptable material from the members of local chapters of Chi Delta Phi.

Cercle Voltaire Hears Macy Review Book

Dr. Pierre Macy spoke to the members of the Cercle Voltaire on Wednesday, October 10. He gave several short anecdotes in French, and read stories that are included in his new French book. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

The French Club has been active since Dr. Pierre Macy's arrival on campus in 1941, and recently changed its name to Cercle Voltaire from Cercle Francais.

Inter-Club Council Rules Set Up For 1945-46

Assembly Re-elects Chairman Appell; Regulates Campus Activity Schedule

Eight Interclub Council rules concerning the club calendar for 1945-46 have recently been drawn up. The Student Assembly has announced that Al Appell was reelected chairman of the Interclub Council at the Assembly's last meeting. He will notify all club presidents, who will comprise the Council, of the first meeting.

The eight Interclub regulations are:

1. Any club wishing to postpone or cancel a scheduled meeting must notify the office of the assistant dean of women at least three days before scheduled date.
2. In the case of postponement the club in question must take whatever date can be given them. If said date is not convenient for the club, the meeting will have to be cancelled.
3. A cancelled meeting may or may not be considered excused at the discretion of the assistant dean of women and the Calendar Committee.
4. No meeting other than Student Assembly will be scheduled for the first Tuesday of every month, between 7 and 8 p. m.
5. The calendar schedules must be filled out and returned to the office of the assistant dean of women within 10 days of date of receipt.
6. A list of the officers of each club must be submitted to the office of the assistant dean of women within 10 days of date of receipt.
7. Any change in officers must be posted with the assistant dean of women within 3 days of said change.
8. Any violation of these regulations is subject to review and penalty by the Interclub Council.

Music Department Lets Students Use Records

Beginning Monday, October 15, phonographs and the records of the Carnegie Collection will be available for students' use in the Music Building. The building will be open on Mondays from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. and from 6:00 to 7:30 p. m., on Tuesday through Friday from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. and from 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. The music building is closed on Sunday.

Miss Edith Isele or William Ward will be in charge. Application should be made with them to get the records. Permanent needles have been placed in all the phonographs and students are requested by the music department not to remove or tamper with the needles.

German Club Makes Dance Plans Tonight

Plans for the Christmas and Spring dances are already being made by the German Club. The next meeting of the club will be held tonight for freshmen only. Dues will be collected annually this year instead of for four years together as it has been in the past. Annual dues will be fifty cents.

The German Club is in charge of all U. S. O. work this year. Donnie Lepper, president of the German Club, is chairman of the U. S. O. Student Committee; Gloria Rankin is vice president; Mary Baker, treasurer, and Carolyn Thomas, secretary. The faculty advisor is Mrs. John E. Pomfret.

Carl A. Fehr Gives Concert

By BARBARA SIMONS

Carl A. Fehr, assistant professor of Fine Arts, presented his first concert at William and Mary on Thursday evening, October 11, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Throughout the performance, Mr. Fehr showed the results of good vocal training. He exhibited perfect diction and good control. Mr. Fehr's mastery of expression was shown especially in the "Aria" from Tannhauser and the "Hills of Home."

The opening selections were "Where You Walk" by Handel, "Tu Lo Sai" by Torelli, and the spirited "Vittoria, Mio Core" by Carissimi. Four German songs followed, "Dir Mainacht" and "Minnelied" by Brahms, Schubert's "Du Bist Die Ruh", and "Ich Grolle Nicht" by Schumann.

Mr. Fehr performed with feeling the Aria: "O! Du Mein Holder Abendstern", from Tannhauser by Wagner, and concluded his program with "Bedouin Love Song" by Pinsuti, "Venetian Song" by Tosti, "Homecoming" by Fox, and "The Eagle" by Busch.

The audience brought Mr. Fehr back for two encores, "The Hills of Home" by Fox and "Verborgeneheit" by Wolf. Andrew C. Haigh accompanied Mr. Fehr at the piano.

Hughes Speaks To College Women

"The Rediscovery of America" was the subject of Dorothy Hughes' speech to the meeting of the American Association of University Women on Tuesday, October 9, at Bruton Parish House. Miss Hughes is a member of the Political Science Department at Randolph Macon Women's College.

The program was sponsored by members of the Social Studies Committee of which Thelma Brown is chairman. Other members of the committee who assisted Miss Brown were Grace Blank, Mrs. W. F. Gibbs, Jacqueline Fowlkes, Mary McWilliams, and Eunice Hall.

Kappa Delta Pi Plans Reception For Tonight

Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity, will hold a reception tonight in Barrett living room from 8:00 to 9:30 p. m. Jerrie Healy is chairman of the reception. Guests will be students taking education, faculty members of the education department, and members of Kappa Delta Pi at Matthew Whaley.

Pledging will take place in November. The fraternity has selected Lindley J. Stiles, associate professor of education, as its new sponsor, since Miss Genelle Caldwell, teacher at Matthew Whaley, has resigned from this position.

"He's done it again. It's pretty rugged when a girl can't tell whether her boy friend's gonna be a blonde from one date to the next."

Friends Of The College Give Library Thirty-one Additional Musical Albums

Thirty-one newly purchased albums have been added to those records presented to the Library by the Class of 1945. These new albums were presented as a gift from the Friends of the College.

Among the new albums are Sonata No. 1 in G by Brahms, Boris Goudonoff by Mussorgsky, Die Gotterdammerung by Wagner, Sonata in B Minor by Liszt, Symphony No. 8 in B minor (Unfinished) by Schubert. These are only a crosssection of the group.

The Friends of the College were organized in 1942 by John Stewart

Bryan, then President of the College. The membership through five years has grown to more than fifty. Normally, the Friends meet annually in April at Williamsburg and at that time meet for luncheon. A report is made by the President of the College and disposition of the funds for the year following is decided. A distinguished speaker in some field of learning delivers an address. This meeting was omitted in 1945. Gifts to this organization are received and distributed by the Endowment Association of the College of William and Mary.

Alumni Gazette Features Tuck

The Alumni Gazette, quarterly of the Alumni Association of the College of William and Mary, was published on October 1. Edited by Alyse F. Tylor, acting executive secretary of the Association, this magazine comes out on the first of October, December, March, and May. Miss Tylor is substituting for Charles P. McCurdy, Jr., '33, who is on a military leave of absence.

On the cover is a picture of William Munford Tuck, '17, the governor-elect of Virginia, standing on the portico of the Capital building in Richmond. Mr. Tuck is the first alumnus of the college to hold this position since 1842.

It was announced in this issue that $5,445 was received for the Charter Day Gifts Fund. This has been turned over to the college and 25 scholarships were granted recipients, including several veterans of World War II.

Included in this issue was the President's page which gave an account of past happenings and future plans of the college. Also 30 awards and citations granted alumni of William and Mary were listed and pictures of American Red Cross workers displayed. An article on Robert E. Henley, '06, written by J. F. Hall, '12, was included to acquaint students and alumni with prominent members of the Association. News of births, marriages, and deaths among alumni is a regular feature.

William-Mary Smashes Gobblers By 38-0 Count

Korczowski and Magdziak Spark Indians To Second Win Of Season

Sparked by Tommy Korczowski and Stan Magdziak, William and Mary jumped into an early lead over V. P. I., added to it frequently as the game progressed, and rode to an easy 38-0 decision in Richmond last Saturday.

Displaying a much improved pass defense which resulted in several interceptions, the Indians had no trouble whatsoever in coming out on top in their first Southern Conference tilt of the year as they combined an excellent running and passing attack to thoroughly outclass the Gobblers.

V. P. I., playing without Harry Bushkar, their vaunted quarterback, never really threatened to score except once in the second quarter when they advanced the ball from their own 41 to the Tribe's eight only to lose it on downs. Aside from this march, the Tech "T" formation could never seem to get going.

Korczowski Stars

Korczowski, performing as brilliantly as he did against Catawba and Tennessee, started the Braves on their way early in the first period. After a short enemy kick had carried to the Gobblers' 33, he set up the opening touchdown by going 18 yards to the 15. Chet Mackiewicz plunged to the 11 and Magdziak then broke through center to reach pay dirt. His conversion attempt was good but was nullified by a holding penalty and the second try was wide.

Shortly afterward, William and Mary struck again. Tech took the following kickoff on their 20, were unable to advance and punted. After a pass intended for Denver Mills went incomplete, Korczowski faded and shot one to Magdziak who gathered it in on the 20 and went the rest of the way untouched. The attempt for the extra point was blocked.

80-Yard Drive

Featuring a sustained drive of 80 yards, the Indians marked up their third score early in the second period. Korczowski took the ball on his 20 and advanced to the 26. Bob Piefke, who had just come in, hammered his way to the V. P. I. 46 in three smashes, driving through the Tech line for gains of eight, nine, and 13 yards, respectively. Two plays later Korczowski threw to Magdziak who was downed on the 17. Tom scampered to a first down on the six, reached the two on the next play and then went over. An attempted pass for the extra point was batted down. The half ended with the score standing at 18-0.

Coming back stronger in the third quarter, the Braves went 95 yards for their next touchdown. Korczowski took the kickoff on his five and gave it a ride to the 30. Mackiewicz gained a first down on the 45 and alternated with Magdziak in going to the Gobblers' 39. Two heaves from Korczowski to Magdziak enabled the Redmen to reach the 11, from which point Tommy went over after three tries. Stan converted (Continued on Page 6)

Tickets On Sale

Head Coach R. N. "Rube" McCray has announced that tickets will be on sale in the athletic office this week for students desiring to attend the William and Mary-Virginia Military Institute game in Richmond this Saturday. Students are urged to buy their tickets as soon as possible so that some of the Saturday morning "rush" can be avoided.

Braves Meet V. M. I. Saturday At City Stadium In Richmond

SPORTS SPIEL

By TOMMY SMITH

After that stunning display of speed and power last week that showed to some few "doubting Thomases" that William and Mary does mean business, our Indians seemed never more sure of at least a tie for the state championship.

V. P. I., Richmond, and V. M. I. hold little awe for the rampaging Tribe, and the last two aren't given even an outside chance to top the locals. General Marshall's alma mater will probably put up the stiffest fight of William and Mary's state rivals, but that at the best is still piteous in comparison to McCray's steamrollers.

Possibly the only state foe that could give the Tri-Color a workout is the University. The match would be a natural from the beginning, and without even trying we figure the turnstiles would easily click about 20,000 times for such a tilt.

It isn't right for the state title to end up in a tie year after year when that could be easily avoided. As Ben Wahrman of the Richmond News Leader has pointed out, one man is obstinately blocking the most natural and colorful contest the Old Dominion has to offer. How long will it take them to forgive us for that lacing we gave them in '41, or could it be, as rumor has it, that they consider William and Mary too uncouth to offer fair competition?

Dixie Walker, Freshman Star, Adds Sparkle To Backfield

One of William and Mary's most promising prospects on the gridiron this year is freshman Dick Walker, 6 foot, 205-pound blocking back from Danville, Virginia. Blond, smiling Dixie lives in Tyler Hall where he keeps the boys in stitches with his dry wit and loquacious nature.

At George Washington High School, Dixie was a three letter man, having played football, basketball, and baseball. Alternating as guard and tailback, Walker performed four years on the varsity eleven and was among the high scorers on his team. Dixie also called signals and earned the reputation of an excellent placement kicker. His dexterity in carrying the mail on the offense and blocking on the defense won him wide spread acclaim. In 1943, Dixie fared so well as fullback that he received a loving cup as the most valuable man on his squad, besides taking all-state honors.

Dixie coached the backfield of the 140-pound junior varsity team at his high school in his senior year. Last June Walker entered William and Mary in order to practice football and get an early start on his studies.

In his spare time Dixie likes to go swimming and listen to semi-classical phonograph records. He thinks the Indians can carry the pigskin even further and tally more points with a little more spirit and determination.

Dixie is undecided at present as to his major, but he is interested in physical education and drafting. The ratio of nearly four girls to

Lynn Chewning, Billy Hawkins Bolster Youthful Cadet Eleven

After defeating Virginia Polytechnic Institute, 38-0, last week the William and Mary Indians will try for their second Southern Conference victory this Saturday against Virginia Military Institute.

Coach "Pooley" Hubert's squad is much lighter than the Brave eleven, and also much younger. Their first-string backfield averages 176 pounds and the oldest man on their team is 22. There are eight returning lettermen, but

Intramural Sports Begin This Week

Under the direction of Coach Kenneth Rawlinson, the touch football league began play Monday with six teams vying for the championship.

Greg Mann heads the Old Dominion North side as does John Daly in Taliaferro "A" and "C"; P. D. Reynolds in Taliaferro "B"; George Bedinger in Tyler "B"; Sherod Mengel in Tyler "A", and Roy Sutton in Old Infirmary Annex.

Last year there were four teams competing in the touch football league, but due to increased male enrollment and the new plan of sponsorship by dormitories instead of clubs, the number of teams had been increased to six.

Competition will end on November 15, at which time the two top teams will have a play-off to determine the championship.

Games will be played every Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p. m. When the winner of the series in November is announced, medals will be given to each of the participants of the winning organization.

Sam B. "Frosty" Holt

Frosty Holt Coaches Ends

Serving as varsity end coach this year is Sam B. "Frosty" Holt, graduate of Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tennessee. The amiable Tennessean will also act as head basketball coach to fill the vacancy left by Glenn Knox.

Holt graduated from Cocke County High where he played football, basketball and baseball. After entering Carson-Newman, he became one of the few to win four letters, starring in basketball, football, baseball and track.

After graduation in 1927, Frosty taught physical education and was head coach and director of athletics at Bristol High School for two years. One of his pupils at Bristol was Beattie Feathers, later an All-American gridder at the University of Tennessee and now head coach at North Carolina State.

In 1929, he returned to his alma mater as head coach and athletic director. During his sixteen year tenure, his grid teams have won the Smoky Mountain Conference football championship six times while his basketball squads have placed first in the conference four times.

When Holt was at Carson-Newman as a student, he was a member of the 'Fighting Parsons', the team that won the state basketball championship in 1923, and 1924.

Holt, who has known Head Coach Rube McCray for eighteen years, first met him when the latter played for Bradley County High in Tennessee. Holt directed several teams at Carson-Newman which battled Tennessee Wesleyan, then coached by McCray.

Frosty stated that he is very happy in his work here because of the fine group of fellows he works with and the excellent cooperation of the team.

In 1943, he was in charge of Navy V-12 physical education at Carson-Newman in addition to regular coaching duties. At present on leave of absence, he plans to return around the first of June, 1946.

"Dixie" Walker

every boy appeals to Dixie but he thinks some of the girls tend to be shy. He is anxiously awaiting the return of national fraternities to the campus so, that college life can get into full swing.

Despite football practice and working in the dining hall, Dixie manages to find some time to study with his roommate, Tom Korczowski, amid the noise and chaos of Tyler Hall.

SKIRTS IN SPORTS

By EL WEBER

Swimming intramurals are to be held in a little over a month, but it's not too early for all interested to begin to get in their practices. The swimming meet will be held on two separate days, one for the dormitories and one for the sororities. Four practices are required for those participating. This is very important as a whole team may be disqualified if a member has not had the correct number of practices.

Blow pool will be opened Tuesday nights from 8:00 to 9:30 for women's plunge periods. Swimming organizations may resume use of the pool from 8:00 to 8:45 p. m., but if not announced previously the pool may be used for recreational swimming. This is a good time to chalk up your intramural practices. In order for the plunge to count as a practice you must be in the water at least a half hour and should give your name to the life guard on duty at the time.

Heads of the swimming organization are Martha Ann Adams, life saving; Carol Beinbrink, intramurals; and Jo-Ann Prince, swimming manager.

Girls' hockey is to take the limelight next week, October 21, when our hockey team meets the girls from Ursinus over in the Jefferson gymnasium. On September 17 our team is also scheduled to play in the state tournament in Richmond. If our players give a good showing there, they will have the chance to enter the Eastern Virginia Team on September 24 and play against the South Eastern Teams in New Jersey.

Coeds Play Mural Tennis

The Girls Intramural Tennis games started last week with the dorm tournaments.

Chandler won the most matches. Out of eight singles sets, they won five, and they triumphed in three doubles out of four. Tommie Smith in Chandler led her dorm to victory by winning in all her matches. Monroe and Jefferson placed second place in points with three wins out of six in the singles and one double set out of three. Bringing in the points for Monroe, Pat Macken took two forfeit matches. Both Brown and Barrett played, but only in one dorm set. Barrett won two of her three games and Brown, due to forfeits, none.

Women to Elect Freshmen Officers

Nominations from the floor were made only by freshmen, as decided by the Senior Nominating Committee. Edith Harwood, president of W. S. C. G. A. explained this by stating, "This year with early closed rushing we've had only about five days in which to get to know the girls. Since they're to be freshmen representatives, the freshmen should nominate them. However, since they're to be a part of Student Government, all the women will be included in the final vote."

At the W. S. C. G. A. meeting, an announcement was made clarifying the Camp Peary permission. Jean Beazley declared that "It is only for junior and seniors; sophomores are not allowed to go to Camp Peary at any time."

Magdziak Intercepts

Later in the period he picked an enemy aerial out of the air on his 40 and ran it back to the Tech 30, aided by a beautiful block by Knox Ramsey. A holding penalty forced William and Mary to kick but V. P. I. obligingly fumbled and Magdziak recovered on the 29. Karczowski then pitched a strike to Mills for another marker. Magdziak again converted and the Indians led, 32-0.

Karczowski paved the way for the final tally as he intercepted a pass on the Tech 35 and was hauled down on the one-yard stripe. He then broke through into the end zone but the play was called back for backfield in motion. The score was finally made by Jack Hoey, giving the final total of 38-0 when the conversion try was no good.

Line Is Outstanding

The Indian line play was outstanding on both offense and defense, with Sonny Davis, especially, making more than his share of the tackles. Big Nick Forkovitch, as usual, took excellent care of the blocking back slot. Mackiewicz also starred for the Tribe.

The only bright spots for the bewildered Gobblers were the performances of Stan Majcher and Ralph Beard but they couldn't carry the load by themselves.

Petitions for each person must be presented to the Office of Dean of Men not later than noon Friday, October 26. Each petition must carry ten names of members of the candidate's class as well as the latter's signature.

Upperclassmen seeking any of these offices must have had a quality point average last semester at least as high as the all student average and must have the required number of semester credits and quality points for the class he represents.

Bert Rance, vice-president of the junior class, will become president, replacing Harvey Chappell, who went into the Army this summer. This procedure is adopted on the authority of Robert's Rules of Parliamentary Procedure, which are followed by the Assembly.

Dick Baker suggested at the meeting that a thorough overhauling of the Constitution should be made for a clarification of certain sections. Tom Campbell was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate this problem.

Mary DeVol was appointed head of a committee to decide what should be done with the surplus money of the Assembly.

Fraternity Men Discuss Rules

found no drawbacks to the lodge system there.

The University of the South, an Episcopal college for men, has used the lodge system ever since fraternities were started on the campus in the 1870's. The frateres lived in the dormitories, usually rooming with men in their own fraternity and keeping together in groups; for instance, "one dorm would be predominantly Phi Gamma and another predominantly Kappa Sigma," said Dr. Adair. The lodges were accessible all day and night, and were the gathering places in the afternoons and evenings. Dances and parties were held there and there were games, billiard tables, and a library for studying. Several couches made it possible for two or three men to spend the night there if they wished.

Houses A Financial Burden

The main point made by Dr. Adair in favor of the lodges concerned the financial situation of fraternities. According to his opinion and what he has seen in practice, the fraternity cannot afford to keep its own house. Dr. Adair feels that the financial burden becomes too great and if this situation continues, one of three things results—(1) the fraternity takes pledges indiscriminately in order to fill up the house to pay the bills; (2) the fraternity goes bankrupt and is asked to disband; (3) the fraternity has to sell or otherwise relinquish its house.

Food at fraternity houses is, according to Dr. Adair, "worse than lousy." He also feel that living in dormitories does not split up the members of a fraternity or in any way inconvenience them.

"Altogether," said Dr. Adair, "the lodge system worked very well at the University of the South. Whether it would or would not be satisfactory at William and Mary is a question that only time and practice could answer."

Philosophy Club Meets Tomorrow

President Ann Batchelder has announced that the Philosophy Discussion Group, called by its membership the most informal club on campus, will hold its first meeting of the year tomorrow night at 8:00 p. m. in the philosophy office of Washington Hall.

This group has no list of officers, no dues, no requirements for membership, and no refreshments except those provided by members themselves. Any student on campus is welcome to attend its meetings.

At every meeting, a different professor gives his views on a subject around which an informal forum is based. John Boyt, Dr. James W. Miller, and Dr. Edgar M. Foltin will start the philosophy discussions this year.

The chief purpose of this organization is to get a group of people together who want to talk on any subject of interest. It is for the airing of opinions and the exchange of teacher-student extra-curricular ideas that the club was born.

"It can not be too thoroughly stressed that this discussion group is open to any and all students whether or not they've had philosophy classes," Dr. Miller, sponsor, has stated.

Baptist Student Union Elects New Officers

Woodie Kinnamon was elected devotional chairman at the first meeting of the Baptist Student Union Council on Wednesday, October 9, at the Baptist Church.

The other new officers of the Council are Jean Harrup, pianist; Lin Hagood, treasurer; and India Boozer, membership vice-president.

Plans were made at the meeting for the Council's trip to Richmond for the Baptist Student Union's State Convention on November 2. The Council also plans to issue its own newspaper once a month.

Bot-E-Talk

Some unenlightened souls have been trying to bribe Botty into withholding certain facts about their "seemingly to them" exciting lives. Others have been trying to reserve space for full reports of weekly escapades. Let it be said now that "Our Lord B." is not easily influenced.

In the old days women's names appeared in print only three times: when they were born, when they were married, and when they died. A new era has evolved.

Them what walk the historic walks: Basil Wooley with Jean Canoles and/or Ann Pennington, Pete Moncure and Joan Stout, Dale Parker and Marilyn Woodberry, Bill White and Margie Walker, Cecil Tindler and Pat Macken, Jean Myers and Billy Hornsby, Mary Lewis-Jones and Tom Campbell, the two Mackens and the "room-mates."

Tall tales: Six foot-one Betsy De Vol wearing a high school ring of six foot-seven old friend.

Just Visiting: Ruth Sinclair's Paul, Peggy Thompson's George, and Helenette Newing's Chuck.

Centennial week ends at the two Big Academies: Barbara Davis, Ellie Weber, Peg Darby, Pat Snyder, Jackie Schutze, and Mary Lou Sibley.

Share and share alike: Tuga Wilson, Jean Black and Ann Norman all with the same lucky male.

Minute mystery: who sent the flowers to the Theta house?

Rings of various kinds: Diamond—Ann Calahan, V. M. I.—Kitty Settle.

"Come live with us—": Dick Sullivan sound asleep in Jefferson living room at eight in the morning. No one had the heart to awaken him.

Faculty fling: Lots of noise in the house across from Jefferson Hall. Quote the girls in Jeff, "We couldn't sleep a wink last night!"

And with the ratio almost four to one: Campus three mischiefs otherwise known as Pope, Stinson, and Zepth, last Saturday night without dates, same receive laughs, same bet five dollars they can change the sad situation, same appear at dance with Marion Webb, Dottie Hammer and Jan Freer.

What's this we hear about having a really big name band for the Thanksgiving week end? The powers that be say we have the money—just a question of getting the band and a little work on the part of ALL the students.

Yours,
Botty and soul.

Kendall, Stage Designer, Instructs Theatre Crew

Playhouse Worker Looks Like Co-ed, Appreciates Campus Volunteer Spirit

By DOT FERENBAUGH

Clad in a prison-striped crew suit marked with a red "p" and "ct" retained from her college stage craft days, you might find Phyllis E. Kendall supervising or doing work for the next production of the William and Mary Theatre, Pygmalion.

Young, brown-haired and vivacious, Miss Kendall comes to William and Mary from an exciting summer at the Pasadena Playhouse, home of new radio, stage and screen talent, where she worked in production and radio classes.

Most students wouldn't recognize Miss Kendall as anything but a fellow student; she looks like a coed. She was amused by several freshmen on the train coming down, and was finally forced to confess her position at the College just before she got off the train to the embarrassment of the boys!

Miss Kendall attended Northwestern and studied at the Speech School there. Her main interest was in backstage work and production. In 1943 she received her B.S. in Speech, English, and Science. Only a year later, while holding a position as technical director of the Children's Theatre in Evanston, Ill., she won her M.S. in Theatre and Speech Re-education. She was a member of Phi Beta professional music and speech fraternity.

While she was at Northwestern she taught speech in the Evanston High School and worked with Winifred Ward in the Children's Theatre there.

During the well-spent summer at Pasadena Playhouse, Miss Kendall was enrolled in a radio course which gave her opportunity to see radio shows and fascinating work that most people usually are not permitted to see. In her theatre work she met young hands and old hands—in her own words, "the summer was on climax after another summer mas one climax after another were auditioned for the movies."

"Phil," her only nickname, is impressed with the campus and also pleased with the sincere spirit of the volunteer stage crew. Perhaps, she is pleased, too, because she spent so many years doing work with those who did it from compulsion, not interest. At Northwestern all speech majors had to do a certain number of required hours of crew work.

Miss Kendall came to William and Mary through the recommendation of John Boyt, who knew her at Northwestern. She teaches one class in Stagecraft and Lighting, and is attached as technician to the William and Mary Theatre.

Award Is Offered To Mortar Board

Announcement of the $500 Katherine Willis Coleman fellowship, open to members of Mortar Board graduating in 1946, was made this week to the local Mortar Board chapter by the national organization.

The fellowship, awarded for the last five years, will go to one or two applicants to be selected by a committee of deans and a committee of national Mortar Board officers. The number of awards, to be $500 each, will depend on the number and quality of applications.

Candidates must be unmarried, less than 25 years of age at the time of application, and able to qualify as candidates for the master's or doctor's degree in an accepted graduate school.

Information and application blanks may be obtained from Miss Katherine E. Kuhlman, Mortar Board National Council, 40 Wisteria Drive, Dayton 9, Ohio, before January 15, 1946.

Winner of the 1945 award was Ruth Charlotte Pierle, University of Cincinnati, now doing graduate work in organic chemistry at the University of Illinois.

Music Group Invites Students To Meeting

Open House will be held by the Music Club Friday, October 19, in the Dodge Room at 7:30 p. m. All people interested in music appreciation, whether talented or not, have been invited.

The Club listens to records and presents concerts during the year. Officers are Gloria McCawley, president; Barbara Thompson, vice-president; Eleanor Westbrook, secretary; and Marjorie Dykes, treasurer.

Dr. Charles Jones Speaks At Chapel

Dr. Charles Jones, student pastor at the University of North Carolina, spoke at chapel service, on Wednesday, October 10. Dr. Jones developed his theme, "What is Christianity?" by stating that the coming of Christ and the Christian religion to the world, led to the furthering of the good inherent in mankind. Dr. Jones feels that each person should endeavor to live according to Christian ideals, and by this means, help to produce greater good in the world.

During the discussion hour in the Dodge Room, which followed, Dr. Jones stressed the importance of tolerance in the Christian life. The University of North Carolina includes a Japanese girl among its students and Negroes are active members of churches in Chapel Hill.

On Sunday night, The Student Religious Union invited students of all denominations to a supper held at the Presbyterian church at 6:00. Julian Aurell, Bob Bryant, and Lucille Burbank gave their answers to the question of Dr. Jones' talk, "What is Christianity?", and then led an open discussion in which students present participated.

He explained that the University of North Carolina is carrying out a program conducive to cooperation and tolerance among all students.

War Fund . . . . For Our Own Benefit

October 15-27 marks the period of the last National War Fund Drive. Students on this campus have always taken an active part in all War Bond and Red Cross campaigns. This last drive should be no exception.

The money accruing from this fund helps to support twenty separate agencies, each with a vast sphere of work to accomplish. A large share of the money will be used by the USO organization. This group will continue to provide entertainment for the American boys stationed in the Philippines, Japan, and Germany, and in hospitals in this country and overseas.

Relief agencies will use this money in liberated countries to help the situation that has resulted from long years of war. The Chinese people who have suffered more war horrors and hardships than any other peoples, and the Filipinos whose loyalty to America never wavered while the Japs were destroying their homes, will benefit from this fund. Also, the allies of this country in Europe whose suffering children need food, medicine, and clothing will benefit.

United Seamen's Service will receive a large share for the men who took the boys over and are transporting them home. Their money will be used to provide rest homes and entertainment for those who manned the ships.

The war is over, but you can do your share in helping with a constructive project by contributing to this National War Fund.

Loyalty Includes . . . . Two Kinds Of Spirit

Support of campus activities and college spirit have been the subject of many editorials. It seems that no matter how much is said, students need an annual push to get up that enthusiasm.

Putting spirit behind athletic endeavors comes naturally to most young people; so little need be said on that score.

However, loyalty to one's Alma Mater does not stop with the football and basketball seasons. The reputation of a college depends just as much on the support evidenced in its cultural pursuits.

Last Thursday night a member of the faculty gave a full vocal concert in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. This event was open to all students, free of charge. Yet, the attendance was pitifully low.

In recent years the administration has tried to make available a larger faculty in music, more numerous concerts and a greater number of opportunities for student participation. The interest being shown is far from proportionate to the effort put forth. This is indeed strange since many students have expressed musical talents and a desire for such faculty concerts.

Events as well advertised as Thursday's concert warrant whole-hearted support. Students are the masters of their own time and should find little trouble in arranging their schedules to allow them to support such cultural activity.

Campus events are beginning to crowd the calendar. Consult the schedule for games, concerts, and plays. They deserve a place in each student's program.

Unless student spirit picks up, the administration can do little to secure more or better known lecturers and performers.

William and Mary Go-Round

By FRED FRECHETTE

We had a dance last Saturday night . . . maybe you were there. It started at about nine o'clock and more or less continued until twelve. The affair took place in the gymnasium, where some people went to enjoy themselves.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the dance was the lighting, of which there was no lack. The three or four 200-watt lamps were strategically located about ten feet above the band, Fred Frechette, where their brilliant unshielded rays could reveal every homely detail of the cold, bare gymnasium. It might be said that their photo-flood effect added nothing to the dance; in fact, they greatly enhanced that barnlike effect so common to gymnasiums.

We also had a band to play for the dance. It is a pretty good outfit, at least, it is composed of pretty good musicians. They played an easy-to-dance-to piece about one out of three numbers. The rest of the time they spent letting go of the brakes and "riding."

All that fast music they played seemed to tire them out, for they had to rest several minutes between each selection . . . and they disappeared completely for a half-hour at 10:30.

There is so much to do in Williamsburg that on a Saturday night you can either go down to the Officers' Club at Camp Peary, go to a movie, or go to the dance. If you are a civilian, you are cut down to the last two items. If you have seen the show, you have only the dance to attend.

Just because they have a monopoly on things to do on Saturday night is no reason why those in charge of our dances cannot make them a little more appealing. Why should they depend upon the fact that there is no place else to go to insure an adequate attendance? If they made even the slightest effort to make dances more appealing, the attendance would jump tremendously.

If the finances of the dance committee are not adequate to warrant the expenditure of a little money to purchase or arrange for a slightly better method of lighting the dance floor, the Student Assembly has a surplus which could be used to the students' benefit by providing for the improvement. It does not take a lighting expert to see that the change in lighting could be accomplished with very little expense. The present lighting "system" is utterly inadequate and very stupid.

As for the music: Being moderately "long-haired" myself, I may be prejudiced; but it seems to me that the greatest majority of the students prefer to dance to a somewhat slower tempo than the one which has been used so much this year. A student pays to dance—he should be given music he can dance to.

At practically every dance I have ever been to, the music has been played in sets of three or four pieces, with a short pause in between each set. It always seemed like a logical way to do things; you were bound to like one of the pieces in a set. Under our arrangement however, if you dislike the number which the band starts to play, there is almost a ten minute wait for the next number (counting the playing time of the one you dislike). The half-hour intermission in a three hour dance is, in the eyes of many students, entirely unnecessary. There is nothing to do but dance . . . and we need music to dance to.

I'm all for improving the whole situation . . . after all, the war is over now.

Columnists Tell Students About Misuse Of Liquor

By BUDDY CANOLES and HARRY STINSON

As students of a college you have been told many times that what is usually referred to as a "college education" is intended to do more than supply one with factual knowledge. College gives the student three things. First, one is exposed to a formal education process; secondly, a certain amount of development in character and personality is supposed to be evolved through a relatively independent way of life; thirdly, we are supposed to chalk up a little more experience in living with people. We do not purport to examine these three phases of college education as such, but would turn our attention to one aspect of the third phase.

One of the ways in which we learn to live a richer life is through social contacts. Inevitably any participation in such activities here leads to the problem of drinking. We do not intend to climb into the pulpit and denounce drinking nor do we intend to stand in front of the ABC store and advocate it, and even if we wanted to we are not capable of discussing drinking relative to its physiological effects upon the body.

Misconceptions About Drinking

We believe that there exist many misconceptions, exaggerations, and under-exaggerations about the use of liquor. To us the problem does not lie in the fact that drinking exists here. We know it will always exist. Any attempt made by the administration to wipe out drinking will be frustrated at the start. We can appreciate the administration's attitude toward drinking, for they much better than we realize that no harm must come to the college through the misuse of liquor. The position of some of us cannot be whitewashed; liquor is misused here. Intoxication does not give anyone special permission to do anything. When a student gets so drunk that he is unable to attend class the next day or, in the event that he does stagger over, look like a "zombie" and smell like a brewery, then that student has misused liquor. This is not a joke; such things have happened.

It appears to us that certain students on campus allow liquor to let down their moral barriers. Often students are fooled into believing they were too drunk to know better, but we point out that in all cases the planning for these get-togethers was done in a sober mind. Actually it would appear then that they were not too drunk to know better, but rather used liquor as a catalyst to speed up an action that they would have eventually got around to doing any way.

Drinking Offers No Excuse

When you say you were too drunk to know what you were doing, what you really mean is that you hope people will believe that you were too drunk to know better. Remember you cannot excuse yourself from anything by being drunk.

The accusation has often been made that the older men on campus, and by older men we mean those who have an easy access to liquor purchasing, are instrumental in causing the younger students to drink. Do those who make such accusations ever stop to think that sooner or later these younger men will be confronted with such a situation regardless of whether they are in college or not? Since they have to meet it, it is better that they should do so at college where for the most part drinking is done on a higher level.

Tolerance Needed

We fully realize that there are many people here who are dead set opposed to drinking in any form, and would probably maintain that no one could drink and be a gentleman. We do not choose to enter into this argument. Those in the administration would attempt to tackle the situation by trying to stamp out all drinking. Since we believe that they will never succeed in this task, to us a more logical manner to deal with the situation would be to admit that drinking is done on campus and by careful methods weed out the students whose drinking is not done on a gentlemanly plane. For the administration merely to turn thumbs down on all drinking would be an admittance that the students of their college were not capable of using any discretion in making decisions for themselves. To the students we say that that the choice of drinking lies with you. If you do choose to drink let it be done wisely; drinking does not entail any ungentlemanly conduct.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

Where, oh where has the college spirit of our 1,100 students been hiding all this time? Surely there is enough pep and interest in everyone to back our campus activities. Yet, this spirit was not evident at our first football game, nor has it appeared in support of our music department.

Wouldn't you be proud to have a good, lively band to cheer the spectators as well as the team at our games? All the other well-known colleges have such an organization, and to lack one seems like a circus or parade lacking music.

There are over seventy students here at college who play musical instruments, and yet only about one-third of these have shown any response to pleas from the Music Department to "start the ball rolling." Won't every one of the seventy, and any one else who can even tap a drum or bang a cymbal, please get in touch with Mr. Stewart at the Music Building and help us organize a good band before our home and Richmond games. Only with your cooperation can such an endeavor be a success and a credit to your school.

M. L. R.

Dear Editor:

We noticed the lack of cheering with Catawaba. Certainly this is not a fault of the students. We have shown some good cheering at pep rallies. If we were grouped together at games, the organized yells would be louder and better. We suggest that designated sections on the west side of the stadium be set aside for students. Let those people cheering the other team sit on the visitors' side of the stadium, not among us to mess up our cheers.

Joan Teer and Mary Harrington.
